crowd almost instantly, could be lost at a beach, probably never recognized. Insignificant as I am He made me; He created me; He brings me to His Soul. "I" – I'm somebody now because He loves me.

"I believe in God" – believe -- I know He's there, I know as a fact that He is with me. To believe in Him means I must love Him or I should love Him and I want to love Him and Adore Him above all others. I want to lead my life according to His will because "I," insignificant little ant, believe, by grace, in Him. Now, if I believe in Him I will lead a good life, by acceptance to grace, and according to His will.

"I believe" -- why do I believe? -- because He, who is all powerful, has infused into me through the Spirit, a knowledge of Himself, such a knowledge so I can say, by grace "I believe." He has revealed Himself to me in many ways -- through His animals, His creations, through Scripture, through personal contact, by grace. So "I," insignificant little one, believe in Him, in God.

"God" -- who is God? -- the Creator of the Heavens and the Earth. But what does this mean to me? Nobody can create the Heavens and no one can create the Earth. So if He is Creator of the Heavens and Earth He is all powerful, almighty. He has given to me such luxuries of living, breathing and health, so He's all merciful and all good. This is God -- all powerful, almighty, and I, insignificant as I am, believe. I acknowledge Him, accept Him, delight in Him, in God, in Him – in God, the all powerful Being, the Almighty Being.

Now, as I believe in Him -- what does He want of me? He expects me to resemble Him because He created me to His image and likeness. But do I resemble Him? Do I try to walk in the light of His Spirit, to be all good, all merciful, all kind, as the Father wants me to be kind because the Father is God? If I believe in Him I will be so good but I can't do it alone; I need His helping aid of grace. So if I believe in Him, I truly believe in Him, in God, I would lead and I will lead my life accordingly.

What powerful words "I believe in God" - that my life should be a good life. Oh, perhaps I will slip because in my humanness I'll slip many times but I'll get right back up by reaching and clinging to His hand, by grace. And He'll pick me up, dust me off and set me on my feet again to believe in Him, to walk in His light.

A word from Father Jay Finelli

If someone asks who you are, what do you say? You can give them your name. It is nice to know your name, but, who are you? You are more than your name. Many people describe themselves by their occupation or their hobbies, by their likes and their dislikes. "I am a dentist." "I like to go to the casino." "My favorite color is blue." "Pasta is my favorite food." These are all things that accentuate some aspect of your personality and they are good. But who are you? Some people even identify themselves by their sins. Of course we can all say that we are sinners but we must never let our sins define us.

Let's rephrase the question. What is the very essence of your being? The answer is simple. "I am a child of God." "I am a Roman Catholic Christian." Everything else must flow from this.

Eileen and Fr. Nick Bozza
Retreat in Malvern, PA - July 16, 2009

During Eileen's priest retreats, she often encouraged us to let the words "I am a priest" penetrate the depths of our souls. This is our very identity because we were changed by God through sacred ordination. The soul of a priest has been configured to Christ and when he loses his priestly identity, he can easily become disoriented.

It is the same with all of us. We must never forget our Baptismal identity. "I am a child of God." When we lose this perspective we wander from the path to God and our everything becomes skewed. Life becomes about us and no longer about Him. If we keep our true identity in mind our goal is always before us. "I am made for God alone, and I am meant to live with Him forever." All that matters in life is pleasing our heavenly Father and our highest concern is doing His will, growing in charity, and progressing in holiness. That is why our Lord gives us the Sacraments. They keep us rooted in our spiritual adaptation and strengthen our resolution to please God alone. Confession refines our refocus, and Holy Communion gives us the power to live as children of the Father. Let us strive, through grace and acceptance of grace, to draw near to our heavenly Father.

God love you!

I Believe In God

I was thinking about "I believe in God." It was a special enlightenment from the Holy Spirit, like a painless arrow from the Holy Spirit penetrated my soul. I, Eileen George, believe in God. What a magnificent gift of faith that God, the Father, has bestowed upon me, as insignificant as I am. I'm like a tiny little ant running around the earth, yet, Father God, Creator of Heaven and Earth gave me the grace, the gift of faith, to believe in God, "I believe in God."

I wondered for a while how many people in the whole wide world truly believed in God. How many have the gift of faith like I have the gift of faith? And how many who have the gift of faith just say it by word of mouth, not really meaning or understanding the words, "I believe in God?" Like myself, how many times have I said it, it gets to be habit like eating,

St. John's Church - Worcester, MA - December 22, 1985

walking, talking and sleeping. But this day the "I believe in God," through the power of the Holy Spirit, was one of the biggest enlightenments of my soul, of my very soul.

I - miserable and unworthy as I am, "Believe in God."

Believe – willing to lay down my life for Him, at any cost.

I believe in Him, I Adore Him, I love Him. I worship Him with a true sense of worship. I love Him because "I believe."

There's nothing in the world that I have done to merit this wonderful gift of faith. Oh, I could pray daily for an increase in faith and this is good because the Holy Spirit listens to our prayer when we say, "Oh Divine Holy Spirit, enkindle in my heart a fire of burning love and faith for my God and in my God.

It is good to ask for an increase of faith and maybe this is where it all began because for many, many years I've been saying the same prayer, "Oh Holy Spirit, increase my faith. Increase this wonderful gift of faith that the Father has bestowed upon my soul." And I really believe at this point during my Rosary or at the beginning of my Rosary the Holy Spirit reassured me He has been listening and He has heard my prayer and in His own time He answers it. For I believe, I truly believe in God, the Father Almighty, Creator of the Heavens and the Earth. Like I said before it passed through my lips many, many times but now it has sprung forth from the depths of my very soul.

I've always said, "I believe" and I've always met it by faith and in my heart I thought I met it more than most people. But until this light came from the Holy Spirit "I believe" was almost habit, habit of good faith. But now I know, through the power of the Holy Spirit, that it springs in all truth from the depths of my soul the "I believe in God." It makes me fully aware of my nothingness and the greatness, the omnipotence of an Almighty God. And yet in my insignificance, He has found in His love and mercy, to give me the gift of faith, to turn the lights on within my soul so I can truly say, "I truly believe, there is no doubt in my mind that I believe in God." This is so wonderful and it has touched such a sensitive spot within my soul that it just blows my mind. I could stay on those words all day long and draw and draw from this well of love, faith and truth, and nourish my soul until the day I die -- "I believe in God."

It reminds me of a mighty elephant looking down, not that I am comparing Father God to an elephant, but I'm just comparing the mightiness of it looking down on a tiny ant and saying, "Hey, ant, do you believe that I am here?" And the answer is, "Oh, yes, I believe; I believe in your power, your greatness, your existence." I'm only comparing the mightiness and the weakness and fragility of an ant -- me being the ant. It only gives me a greater love for Father God, a deeper love, a wonderful feeling, and a sense of being that He loves me so much that He bestowed upon me, Eileen, the gift of faith, this wonderful, wonderful gift.

I always knew I had faith by God's grace but through the light of the Holy Spirit now I realize the tremendous generosity of Father God; His Omnipotence and my nothingness. Such a wonderful feeling. It enkindles in my heart a deeper love for my Father, my God, my Creator, my Daddy. My heart is just bubbling over for love of Him, bubbling over with the yearning for Him, the craving and desire to be with Him forever -- this my God, my Father, my Daddy!!

Oh my soul cannot contain such a feeling. It feels as though it wants to set itself free and fly to Him, to be with Him whom the Soul believes in, whom the Soul acknowledges. I have all I can do to contain it.

Eileen's Plea to her Soul

Oh my Soul, you must stay with me for now until we both can go before Him. I know your yearning is far greater than my humanness because you know your God in a deeper way, my Soul. But please you must stay with me for a while longer and help me grow in love, in understanding, in unity for my God. Oh my Soul, you must stay with this body and help it to grow in love and wisdom for its God because this body believes, my humanness believes, my Soul. Together we'll make it. We'll please the Great Creator, our Great Father, in everything we do by His grace alone. We're not capable of doing anything except by His grace, not even believing. He has given me this wonderful, magnificent new awareness of "I believe." Only by His grace I see it; I feel it, my Soul, I feel it.

Now, each morning when I awake I have this new awareness of my God, my Father, my Daddy, my Creator, the Supreme Being. And in this new awareness I want to be such a better person because "I believe" in Him. He's watching over me. He's with me every minute, every second -- in every sigh, in every laugh, in every movement, in every tear. He is with me and "I believe." So I will, by grace, be a better person to please Him, who I believe in; to Adore Him, who I believe in; to work for the salvation of souls for Him, who I Adore and believe in.

It makes my day become alive; it makes my day have so much more meaning because "I believe." I believe He is watching over me; I believe He is protecting me; I truly believe He loves me beyond all understanding. I know He is all worthy of my praise, my love, my existence because "I believe" and it makes my day so rich, so filled with His love and expectation. Yes, "I believe" and I will prove it, by grace, in my actions; every minute, every moment of the day.

I will prove that I believe to my brothers and my sisters by showing them love so that they too will search into this belief. I will reach out to the needy and the afflicted by prayer and sacrifice because I believe He will take care of them because He love them, He delights in them. He delights in our belief, the unity of our belief as brothers and sisters in the Mystical Body of Christ.

"I Believe" means...

"I believe" means I will fulfill my vocation that the Father has called me to the best of my ability, by grace, because I believe in God. He knows what is best for me and I must fulfill it to the best of my ability to please Him because I believe.

I believe in God and I will prove it in my daily actions, in my encounters with people, in my prayer time with my Father, fulfilling my duties as a mother, a housewife and fulfilling my Church obligations of love; all because I believe in God. He's there. He's watching over me. As a mother hen protects her chicks He's protecting me, insignificant me. He loves me, He provides for me.

As small as I am before Him I am important to Him; me, Eileen, I am important to Him. Imagine me being important to God because He watches over me and that makes me special.

He gave me the gift of faith and that makes me very important in His sight. I'm unique in His sight.

I believe in Him because He had mercy on me to give me the gift of faith. It just blows my mind; I can't seem to go any further than "I believe in God." What a grace, what a gift, what a tremendous grace of faith, a gift of faith given to me by the Almighty God, Creator of the Heavens, the Universe.

I could stay on the "I believe" all day long; it just blows my mind. I want each and every one of you to realize these important words: "I believe in God" but only by His grace. We're not capable of believing in God except by His grace, His wonderful grace.

Use the "I believe in God" in your next meditation, in the next time of contemplation and I am sure you could never exhaust these words. You could never drain them; there's more and more to come, deeper and deeper love. Try it today, begin with the "I believe in God" and make up your mind, through grace, that you are going to stay with this.

Meditation on "I Believe in God"

"I" – who am I? What am I? Am I great, am I small; am I powerful? Insignificant little "I," to people, "I" -- maybe I'm nobody here on earth, before God probably much smaller than an ant and yet, He allows me to say, "I." And I can continue by grace to say, "I," insignificant as an ant, could be lost in a
